Novel Treatment Strategies for LN

Y.K.O. (Onno) Teng

Nephrology clinician-scientist at the department of Internal Medicine of the Leiden University Medical Center (LUMC)

Prof. Teng will address the most recent studies leading to approval of belimumab and voclosporin for the treatment of active lupus nephritis patients. These studies led up to an update of the European guidelines for the management for SLE. Professor Teng will address the rationale behind these novel therapies and provide a state-of-the-art practical insight in the treatment of LN
